BEGIN IN TIME.

DREADFUL RAVAGES OF CHOLERA IN MISSOURI.

Sees the Repetition of Which Can Only be Prevented by Timely Action.

Cholera is knocking at the doors of New York City.

Soon its march across the continent may begin.

It may leap from New York to St. Louis and from St. Louis to Sedalia.

Unless history is wrong and science in error, the dreadful scourge will leap in and manifest its presence where filth and bad sanitary conditions furnish the most congenial place to breed and propagate the germ.

Then, when the atmosphere has become poisoned with the fatal germs, sanitary measures will not avail and the disease must run its course.

There is only one safe course and that is to so carefully clean the city as to furnish the least favorable condition for the spread of the disease.

If a case of cholera had been developed in Sedalia to-day, a thousand men would to-night attend a mass meeting to urge the improvement of the sanitary condition of the city. Then before the needed precautions could be taken it might be too late.

The disease may appear here in less than one week—it may not come at all. But if we prepare to meet it we will have done our duty.

The St. Joseph Gazette has the following in regard to former cholera epidemics in Missouri, and some of the heart-breaking scenes described were witnessed by some of the readers of the DEMOCRAT:

Missouri did not escape former scourges. The most violent and fatal Asiatic cholera that ever raged in America swiftly traversed the continent and appeared in St. Louis in 1832. The present scourge resembles, in many respects, the scourge of 1832, which reaching England in the summer of 1831, and lingering through a mild winter, spread alarmingly in the spring of 1832 through Great Britain and this country.

At that time the city of St. Louis was in an excellent sanitary condition. Streets and home premises had been cleaned, and by prudent care the people enjoyed good health. But the atmosphere had become saturated with the deadly miasma and all precaution seemed to have been in vain. It first broke out among the soldiers stationed at the outskirts of the city, and a great panic immediately followed, many citizens seeking refuge in remote parts of the state and country.

The scourge lasted six weeks. During its height twenty and thirty deaths a day were common occurrences, and when it had disappeared one in every twelve citizens had died. The following year witnessed greater fatalities. In 1849 it revisited St. Louis with fearful consequences. Business and traffic were almost suspended, and the consternation and panic were appalling.

An interesting incident in connection with this panic is found in the fact that the people, at the suggestion of city physicians, gave up vegetable food and gorged themselves with the strongest of meats. An ordinance was passed prohibiting the sale of vegetables. Deaths increased at such an alarming rate that the ordinance was repealed. Deaths reached 160 a day, and between April 30 and August 6, 4,060 died. The dread pestilence left death and desolation in its pathway. The stoutest and most able bodied persons were attacked and reduced in a few hours to skin and bones. According to Rader's account the dead were thrown unceremoniously into pits, and women often buried their own dead.

Such suffering developed many self-sacrificing heroes; among them was Dr. Lewis F. Linn, whose noble conduct in caring for the sick so endeared him to the hearts of the people that he received the appointment to represent the state in the United States senate, his predecessor having died of cholera. His fame was not confined to Missouri. His work and life were known in every western state. When he died the legislature erected a monument to his memory, and the legislatures of Wisconsin and Iowa passed resolutions in commemoration of his heroic deeds for the sick and suffering.

If the ravages of cholera in Missouri were frightful and deadly when the country was comparatively new and sparsely settled, care and vigilance must be exercised to prepare for the approach of the pestilence which has already appeared upon the Atlantic sea-board.

A LIBEL SUIT.

Prof. Robyn, Author of "You," Sues the St. Louis Chronicle for $25,000 Damages.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat of yesterday has the following to say of a gentleman well known in musical circles in Sedalia.

"Prof. Alfred G. Robyn, with A. Jonas as counsel, began a $25,000 damage suit in the circuit court yesterday against the St. Louis Chronicle, which he charges with libel. It appears that on July 15 last the Chronicle contained an article headed, 'Flash-Bang; the Pistol, the Pupil and the Professor,' which purported to give an account of an altercation between 'a well known organist of national reputation' and a lady pupil in the organ loft of a Jewish temple, in which the organist insulted the pupil, when she opened fire at him with a revolver. No names were mentioned, but the plaintiff states that the article was intended to apply to him; that it was willful, wanton and malicious and not based on facts."

LABOR DAY.

The Railroad Shops Close Down and a Big Meeting of Workmen is Held.

To-day, September 5th, is labor day and is observed by workmen of all classes throughout the United States. The different labor organizations prepare a programme, lay aside their work and devote the time to jollification and speech-making.

In Sedalia the day was observed with unusual interest. The Missouri Pacific and M., K. & T. railway shops closed down and as many laborers as possible in other trades laid off. At 1:30 o'clock a big meeting was held at Germania hall on Main street, and continued throughout a greater part of the afternoon. Different well known orators addressed the crowd and a regular jollification was held. The speakers were from both political parties.

There will be another meeting at Germania hall to-night, to which everybody is invited.

Attempted Robbery and Shooting.

The Parsons Eclipse has the following concerning the shooting which occurred in that city early Saturday, and which was mentioned in Saturday's DEMOCRAT:

About 4:30 this morning a man entered the M., K. & T. lunch room and hurriedly demanded of Andy Deitz the money in the house. Deitz at the time was sitting in a chair, and supposed it was some of the railroad boys making the demand in a jocular mood, as he had frequently heard such demands before. He replied that he would not, and arose from a chair as he supposed to wait on a customer. Upon reaching the counter he saw that he was confronted by a masked man who held two revolvers. Deitz replied that he had no money that belonged to him, and kept edging along the counter to get to a revolver in a drawer. In talking to the robber in order to hold him off until he could get to his weapon he passed the drawer, and suddenly realizing this he turned quickly to get the weapon when the robber fired and ran and was out of the house before Deitz had an opportunity to use the weapon. The ball passed through the muscles of the right arm and lodged in the counter. There was quite a number of yardmen and others at hand. Most all of them heard the shot, but supposed that it was a torpedo on the track. The robber ran past the depot and south through the yards and made his escape.

Barnum's Coming.

Barnum's advertising car is sidetracked at the depot and is billing the town for October 3d. The Sedalian will now spend his spare time reading with open-eyed wonder the variegated accounts of the colossal aggregation.

A Warner Club.

The republicans of Sedalia, headed by the Military band, will organize a Warner club at Mart's hall on East Third street in East Sedalia this evening, after which they will march in a body to Germania hall on Main street and attend the labor day evening celebration.

REV. SAM JONES.

He Speaks to a Large Number of People at Perle Springs Yesterday.

Notwithstanding the rain a large crowd heard the Rev. Sam Jones at Warrensburg yesterday. He delivered two sermons, one at 11 a. m. and the other at 2:30 in the afternoon.

His morning talk was on the text "What I have written, I have written," St. John 19th chapter and 22nd verse. Below is a synopsis of what he said:

"There is something awful in the thought that what you and I have written is recorded up there and will stare us in the face on the day of judgment. Conscience record, God. Conscience the reigning prince of our heart; that which approves all good and disapproves every wrong thing. That voice of God that makes you hang your head in shame at some evil action. What man or woman but what has felt the pangs of conscience and he who trifles with it commits a sin; he who neglects the voice of conscience neglects God, conscience, record."

If you remove this hand the feeling still remains that it is there, but you can't change your record up there; it abides forever. It is 'not all of life to live, nor all of death to die.'"

Conscience, record, judgment.

Judgment is simply a forensic term as applied here on earth, but up there it is the final session of heaven's chancery. There are three legal ways of escaping earthly punishment for a crime; that is by force of law, force of testimony and the clemency of the governor. When you defeat justice you set up anarchy, when you set aside the law cord. Christ is willing and able to save. Come to him. "Though your sins be as scarlet, they shall whiter than snow."

A Cholera Breeder.

In line with the cholera question is the sewer that empties its filth and stench on Broadway, just west of Hancock. While improvements are being made in the city, this pestilence breeding place should not be overlooked. The sewer commences emptying at the south line of Broadway and follows a sluggish branch for blocks to the southeast.

The ejected contents lie under a midsummer sun, decomposing and fermenting, until at night the odor suggests the "dumps" of a large city refuse on a river front. It is a disgrace to Sedalia.

Visited by a Burglar.

J. W. Walls, the harness and saddler drummer, has returned from a ten days' trip to Denver and reports a profitable journey.

Mr. Walls says that on last Thursday night during his absence a burglar visited his house at No. 310 West Seventh street and gave his wife a bad fright. She was awakened about 3 a. m. by hearing the crash of a falling shutter. She sprang from her bed and found that the would be house-breaker had pried open the window shutter to her room but accidentally let it fall. He made haste to escape.

you inaugurate communism. Liberty depends on the strict enforcement of the law. Law and order are the emblems of American citizenship."

Just at this point Mr. Jones was interrupted by a child getting a glass of water. He said: "The devil is always pleased where some one interrupts a sermon. I am speaking to Missourians. There is no greater state in the union. The citizens stand for the enforcement of all the laws."

You may defeat justice here and escape judgment, but you can't do it at the great assize. "Take the wings of the morning and fly to the uttermost ends of the earth." God is there. Make your bed in hell. He is there. God is everywhere. The roads from Warrensburg lead in every direction but there is only one road to be followed after death and that leads to the judgment seat of God.

There is no dodging the law, you can't bribe His jury; you can't defy His court. All of us will stand before him on our record. "What I have written, I have written."

Who can say they never violated a single commandment? Hear the law. "He that breaketh the least commandment is guilty of all." Written testimony is the most awful. You can't change it.

I can understand men's wickedness but not women's. A fallen woman is a decoy duck of the devil. Now in leaving me, I want to warn you to look after your re-

WHERE IS HE?

A Chicago Woman Telegraphs to Sedalia and Wants to Know the Whereabouts of Her Agent.

A telegram was received in Sedalia this morning signed by Eugenia Arnstein, Chicago, in which she anxiously enquires about the whereabouts of Louis Loemenkind, her agent, and states that he is supposed to be hurt.

She is evidently in the theatrical business, but a thorough search in the various stage journals failed to locate her. Loemenkind was not at any of the leading hotels, and, if in the city, is in a secreted place.

A Rare Malformation.

A very peculiar malformation of a man's leg was noticed at the depot this morning. The distance from his right knee to the sole of his foot was about four inches longer than that of his left. The difference in time of the articulation of the joints gave him a very peculiar stride.

THE BIG FIGHTER.

Sullivan Arrives At New Orleans in the Early Hours.

A CHARACTERISTIC CROWD DRAWN.

Professionals and Shady Persons in Force —No Doubt of Many Visitors —Sports on the Qui Vive.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 5.—In the wake of the champion there has come to town a miscellaneous and characteristic assortment of ring followers as has ever been gathered together in any city at any time for any fighting event. The quiet of the Sabbath was rudely disturbed by the presence of the professional fighter, the bookmaker, the tout and the gambler.

President Noel said to a representative of the Associated press that he believed the reports of the number of people coming here had been exaggerated and there would be fewer visitors to these fights than the newspapers have promised. If five thousand strangers are here for the star contest of the series, he says his expectations will be fully realized. The thick and steady stream of people that flowed from early morning until evening indicate that the attendance will exceed the number hazarded by Mr. Noel.

The St. Charles hotel has been the stamping ground of the sporting contingent, but from that central point the lines of people yesterday radiated in all directions, but most particularly in the direction of the champion's temporary abiding place on Rampart street.

The Sullivan party was fortunate in the hour they selected for coming into town. Before 5 o'clock was too early an hour for even the most enthusiastic admirer of the big fellow to go down to the lone Northeastern yards, where the train was to arrive.

So Sullivan escaped the annoyance of a mob to receive him. Only a small knot of people and the trainmen were on hand when the headlight of the engine shot out of the dawn a mile down the track.

President Noel intended to send out a special train with a few prominent members of the club to receive the gladiator and his friends, but the dispatch that was sent to Charley Johnson at Utah, Ala., asking if that programme would be acceptable did not reach its destination until the train had passed that point. So, the idea of a special to receive the champion was abandoned. The club provided carriages and into these the Sullivan party were hustled upon their arrival. They drove at once to Mrs. Hamilton's at 45 Ram-pert street, and the champion immediately threw himself on a lounge and was soon sleeping as soundly as a child.

Casey and Johnson watched by his side while the landlady was given strict orders to permit no one to enter.

One of the first callers received was Dr. Finney. When the Young Men's club refused to formally invite the gladiator to use its gymnasium, Dr.
Finney exercised his right as a member and individually extended the courtesy of the club to the fighter and his trainers. The doctor called yesterday morning to announce that he was ready to act as escort whenever Sullivan's party was ready to visit the gymnasium.

Joe Lannon came down with the Sullivan party. He has been one of Sullivan's sparring partners and has boxed with Corbett. Lannon made a bee line for the St. Charles and was soon in the center of a circle of sports who wanted to know all about Sullivan and his condition. To all inquiries, Lannon made the same answer that the champion was in perfect condition and su-premely confident. When information was sought as to Sullivan's alleged obesity, Lannon said that the night when Sullivan boxed in Brooklyn he had a heavy pad around his waist which made his girth seem larger than it really was. Charley Johnson and Phil Casey will probably be the big fellow's seconds and Jack Ashton his bottle holder. In addition to these there will be a representative of the club in the big fellow's corner, as there will be in the corners of all the men. Lannon thinks Sullivan a winner in a few rounds, because Sullivan can hit harder and quicker than Corbett, has ample wind, is remarkably clever and can use his hands as fast as the San Franciscan, who Lannon says loses his head when punished.

The Olympic club acted as host to the public yesterday and toward the club thousands of home people and hundreds of visiting sports rode and drove from early forenoon until late at night. The new club house and arena were thrown open to public inspection and members of the club showed the visitors around.

Ladies are not admitted to the fights, but many found their way into the the magnificently appointed Olympic institution. The ring and arena are as complete as they will be during the coming carnival.

The telegraph companies' agents were the only persons at work yesterday and they have nearly finished their arrangements for telegraphing the details of the fights. Rube Frank, who is prominent in the affairs of the club, expressed the opinion that there will be at least 9,000 persons at each of the contests. If there are, the club ought to clear $50,000 on its risky investment.

The Strip Cleared.

ENID, I. T., Sept. 5.—A correspondent watched the troops lead off a few straggling bunches of cattle, or at least they looked on while the herders did the work. This is the last of the cattle evictions, and the soldiers will now proceed on their way to Fort Reno. It is estimated that since the troops have been in the strip 45,000 cattle have been evicted. A Rock Island officer says that his company has handled 33,000 head during the past thirty days.

The new stables of the Belt line at Washington were destroyed by fire.
Sixteen horses were roasted.

KANSAS PEOPLE'S PARTY.

Judge Webb Joins the Third Party—An Important Conference.

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 5.—The crowds from the country to attend the people's party state rally here began to assemble before noon. James F. Legate, who was expected in the morning, did not arrive, and Senator Peffer was the only advised speaker in the city. Legate was announced to arrive on the afternoon train and W. A. Harris was announced as the evening attraction. Col.
Harris spoke at Thomsonville.

All of the people's party candidates will meet in conference here and the question of the removal of the central committee headquarters will be discussed. The candidates are of one opinion about the advisability of removing the headquarters at once, but Chairman Breidenthal insists that it will be useless to move them until after he has completed his visits to the various sections of the state.

Judge Webb, who has been a life long republican, has signified his intention of making speeches for the people's party. He wants to be assigned to the Third district, where he can attack Gov. Humphrey, against whom he is especially bitter. He has been of color politically since the Botkin trial, and although he was elected as a republican to the last legislature he was retained for the prosecution in the Botkin case.

The BORDEN CASE.

Dr. John Abbott Contributes a Statement That Both Murders Occurred Simultaneously.

TAUNTON, Mass., Sept. 2.—Dr. John Abbott, of Fall River, knew something about the condition of the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Borden before he went west, but, as he was away before any suspicion was directed toward Lizzie, he had expressed no opinion.

Now he says he saw the bodies a short time after they were discovered by the daughter and viewed by the police and both were warm. There was not the slightest indication that one had been dead over an hour before the other.

In fact, it is his opinion that Mr.
Borden was killed first and that Mrs. Borden was followed up stairs by the murderer and stricken down as she was running to the window to call for assistance.

It was the blow on the back, affecting the spine, that caused death, he thinks, and the head blows were given afterward to make sure.

Senator Mills Seeking Rest.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sept. 5.—Senator Roger Q. Mills is here en route to fill an appointment at Laredo. In an interview Senator Mills complained of being completely broken down physically, and said he would have to give up active political work and take a rest. For this purpose he has canceled his appointments at Brownwood, Dublin, Eastland, Weatherford, Decatur and Gainesville, and has declined all invitations to speak in the north. Col. Mills said, with reference to the gubernatorial fight between Clark and Hogg, that it was a fight for the democrats to settle among themselves, and he would take no part in it further than to vote for Hogg. His canvass will be confined to national issues.

Corbett En Route.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Sept. 5.—The Corbett special over the Richmond & Danville railway has had a pleasant run from Washington, although an hour late. Corbett slept well and got up about 8 a. m. as chipper as a lark and feeling like a fighting cock. The train was run to Charlottesville for breakfast, but owing to the delay in getting away from Washington, the programme was changed and they stopped over at Danville where an excellent meal was served. Corbett ate a hearty breakfast.

Death of a Journalist.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 5.—Maj. W.
W. Bloss, a journalist of extended reputation who formerly resided in Kansas City, died at 12:30 o'clock yesterday morning at his home in Chicago, after a protracted struggle with that wasting disease, anemia. Maj. Bloss was well known and held in the highest esteem by many of the older residents of Kansas City. During the four years following the spring of 1878, he was the chief editorial writer of the Times.

Killed By a Lead Pencil.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Mrs. Catherine Horane, wife of James Horane, captain of the canal boat G. Hayden, of Oswego, was instantly killed at Giers Lock, near this city, last night. She was walking along the deck and stumbled over a coil of rope. She fell headlong, and a lead pencil which she carried in her hand was driven into the brain through the left eye, a distance of four inches.

Dr. Jenkins Denounced.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—At a meeting of the Central Labor federation yesterday Dr. Jenkins was denounced for permitting cabin passengers to land from European steamships, while occupants of the steerage are detained, and a resolution was passed demanding that all passengers be treated with equal severity for the protection of the city and country.

Firing at the Pickets.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 5.—The miners at Coal Creek and Oliver Springs are getting aggressive again. Firing has been going on at the pickets at both places since last night. Additional troops from Nashville and Harriman are now on their way to the mines. All union miners have quit work, which causes surprise, as their busiest season is approaching.

A row of wooden buildings owned by C. H. Dodd was destroyed by fire at Portland, Ore. Loss $100,000; insurance, $90,000.

THE PEST SHIPS.

Further Outbreak of Cholera on Quarantined Vessels.

SALOON PASSENGERS IN TERROR.

The Dead Taken to Swinburne Island and Cremated—Dr. Jenkins Takes Further Steps to Intercept Incoming Vessels.

QUARANTINE, S. I., Sept. 5.—On board the plague stricken Hamburg-American line of steamships the Normannia, Rugia and Moravia there is much excitement caused by the spread of the cholera scourge.

During the twenty-four hours ending at 3 p. m. there were three deaths on the Normannia, six new cases among the steerage passengers and two among the crew. Two of the Rugia's patients have died and the three-year-old boy aboard the Moravia who was stricken on Friday has also been numbered among the dead. More deaths are expected and if there existed any doubt that the disease aboard these vessels was not cholera it has been dismissed now. In the lower bay the passengers aboard the quarantined vessels welcomed a mild summer morning, which was accompanied by a cold breeze from the north. Time hung heavily on their hands, and precisely the same conditions prevailed on shore at the upper quarantine boarding station among all who were on ships anchored there awaiting developments. And the developments came soon enough.

Shortly after 12 o'clock the news spread through the Normannia that more deaths had occurred and others had been stricken with the disease.
The cabin passengers who had been so jolly all the morning became panic stricken. They cried out against being confined in a pest ship and the ladies on board of the vessel were in a state of great terror. Their fears were relieved to a certain extent, however, by the removal of the steerage passengers to Hoffman island. The commissioner describes the feeling prevailing among the passengers as of a heartrending character. There was some doubt among the passengers up to this time as to the presence of the dread disease on board the steamer, but the deaths and new cases which occurred brought terror to the bravest hearts on board of the infected vessel and they now fully recognize that the grim specter of cholera is really in their midst.

Dr. Jenkins arose early and an hour before noon left for the lower bay on the cutter State of New York. He was accompanied by the quarantine commissioners. Late in the afternoon Commissioner Allen returned with the disheartening news from the stricken vessels, leaving the health officer down the bay. Dr. Jenkins did not return during the day, but sent on shore a telegraphic dispatch ordering the pest boat Franklin Edison to proceed to the stricken ships at once. She will probably remain there until the cholera is stamped out effectually. On her arrival Dr. Talmadge, who was on duty at early morning, decided that the dead be removed to Swinburne island and there cremated.

Dr. Jenkins early in the day saw the advisability of establishing a permanent headquarters in the lower bay from which to board incoming ships, and accordingly ordered the hospital ship S.
D. Carlton to be towed down in the horseshoe, which is the strip of water directly north of Sandy Hook.

The Hamburg-American Co. was advised of the step taken in regard to its vessels, and a tug was sent to Hoffmann island, loaded with provisions.
Dr. Jenkins' visits to the Rugia and Moravia were short. He also visited the hospital islands and in the afternoon several officials of the New York city health department steamed down the bay on a tug to see him. The police patrol reported early in the day for duty and warned all passing vessels to keep a safe distance. Masters of vessels of all descriptions began to realize the gravity of the situation, and gave the pest ships a wide berth.

A GINGER COLORED NEGRO.

A Man Under Arrest at Camden, Arkansas, Held as the Much Wanted Sedalia Negro.

Sheriff Ellis R. Smith is in receipt of another picture to-day which the sender hopes is the much wanted Sedalia negro.

Sheriff A. Hamilton, of Camden, Ouchita county, Arkansas, arrested a negro a few days ago for carrying concealed weapons, having found upon his person a 38-calibre Hopkins pistol. The negro gave his name as Will Williams, and beyond that refused to give any information at all concerning himself. A negro woman who was following him from place to place, said that his right right name was Will Haynes.

The picture received by Sheriff Smith shows him to be a most desperate looking man. The enclosed description says he is of a ginger cake color, about five feet nine inches in height, has a mole on left breast, a wound on left knee, which he claims was done by a scythe, scar on forehead near center, running down across bridge of nose, and a scar above his left eyebrow. The negro has a peculiar elevation of the right side of his upper lip, suggesting a rather marked expression during conversation.

"A POLITICAL SCHEME."

A Member of the A. P. A. Has Something to Say Concerning the David Ramsey Matter.

A DEMOCRAT reporter was approached by a well-known gentleman in the city this morning, who is a member of the American Protective Association and who appeared to be much incensed over the report that the association in Sedalia had sent a circular to David Ramsey, republican candidate for county treasurer, notifying him that if he did not withdraw his daughters from the Catholic school of the Visitation Convent, at St. Louis, the A. P. A. would cause his defeat at the polls in the fall.

The gentleman said, "You can state that the association in Sedalia emphatically denies that it had anything to do with any such circular, and furthermore that it is not a part of its work to say where a man shall educate his children. Personally, I believe it a political scheme of the republican candidate to secure the sympathy of the Catholic voters."

The speaker was quite decided in his statements and was anxious that the A. P. A. should not be falsely accused nor its name used in a way that would make questionable political capital.

Charley Fleck's successor to the position of traveling auditor on the "Katy" comes from the Southern Pacific at Galveston.

Ed. Farley, the well-known traveling auditor of the "Katy," went north this morning to check up the transfer of agents at Hannibal. If this isn't a tough job then Sampson never slew a lion.

Chas. Fleck, the retired traveling auditor of the M., K. & T., will engage in the grocery business with his brother, Ed. Fleck, in East Sedalia. Charley is a clever gentleman, and his friends wish him unbounded success.

No Longer With the "Katy."

Tearing Down the Hills.

The Rocheport Commercial has the following to say concerning work on the M., K. & E. near that point:

"On down the river and facing the same kind of obstacles, are Haney & Evans with workmen and powder and drill, engaged in clearing the way for the iron horse.

Tons of explosives are being used to crumble down this solid masonry of the carboniferous age, and rend these bluffs which have stood the storms of centuries. Passing on down the river, one can hear the constant booming of the blasts which sounds like heavy cannonading and can almost fancy himself upon a field of battle. This work is going on and is being rapidly pushed to a successful finish, and when it has been completed, will be the best road bed in the state. Last week we reported the completion of the road two miles this side of Augusta. It is now finished and cars are running upon it four miles this side of Augusta.

In the river bottom between Franklin and Rocheport, six of the eleven miles of grading are ready for the ties, and Mr. Gillett informed us that this eleven miles gap would be closed between now and the 15th of November.

Contractor Deooling has about finished his three miles contract in the bottom west of this place, and it is now believed that the entire line will be finished and ready for the rolling stock by January 1st."

Frank Williams, disturbing the peace, had his case continued until to-morrow.

W. H. Evans had a blue Monday. Next to being dead this is said to be the most excruciating state in which a foolish man can possibly place himself. Philosophers claim the only difference to be in the fact that in one case the corpse can walk, in the other it cannot. The corpse in this case paid $5.

Francis Ravening, a name that suggests a nihilist, was fined $10 for late hours and dropped into the calaboose with a dull thud.

May Parrish disturbed $7 worth of peace and will receive her visitors in the marble paved palace known as the rock pile.

Taylor Umbles, one of the worst little coons in town, had a pocket full of nice, round rocks last Saturday morning and endeavored to knock the phrenological bumps off of another negro boy's head. He was fined $10, at the rate of about $1 a shot.

A SUDDEN DEATH.

A Respected Citizen of Lamonte Dies of Apoplexy.

LAMONTE, Mo., September, 5.—Jos. J. Scott, aged about sixty years, died suddenly of cerebral hemorrhage or apoplexy, this morning. He had lived in Lamonte for several years and was highly respected. He and his wife were sitting in their family room at home when he raised his hand to his temple and remarked that he had a funny feeling in his head. These words had scarcely escaped his lips when he fell forward to the floor. He died in about three hours.

Sorry He Came Back.

On October 2d, 1891, Eugene Johnson, in company with two other negroes, stole a load of corn from a man near Sedalia. The two negroes were captured, but Eugene escaped and has been dodging around the country ever since.

A few days ago he returned to Sedalia and secured employment at the City hotel. Constable Ramsey got track of him and placed him under arrest this morning. Justice Fisher fined him $5 and costs, and Johnson went to jail.

Will Sue For Damages.

Mrs. A. G. Bailey, the Chicago woman who was arrested Friday night for obtaining money under false pretenses and falsely representing herself to be the agent of the United States Book & Mercantile Co., was discharged late Saturday afternoon, the officers receiving notice from Chicago that she was all right.

She stated before she left the city that she would bring suit for damages against the ladies who caused her arrest.

Will Leave Soon.

Rev. C. P. Brewer, who has been for several months filling the position as pastor of the Southern Methodist church at Lamonte, made vacant by the illness and death of Rev. Preston Phillips, will to-morrow close a very interesting five weeks' meeting and will, about the last of the week, leave for Montgomery City to meet Bishop Gallo-way. During his pastorate Rev. Brewer made a host of friends in Pettis and they would rejoice to see him returned to Lamonte.

Materials for Girls' Frocks.

The fancy French woollens in vogue for ladies' dresses are used in small figures, stripes, and checks for girls' spring frocks. Crepon, plisse wools, Bedford cords in great variety, and the new velours russe with tiny silk cords crossing wool grounds, are chosen for their best dresses, to be worn on the first warmer days. The glossy Henrietta cloths are still used, but cashmere is less in favor. Cheviot, homespun, and rough flecked wools in stripes or checks are for serviceable every-day wear, with serges and wide rough diagonals for school and outing dresses.

For dancing-school, parties, or concerts in the afternoon or evening are gay little dresses of red or yellow bengaline, of pink or white crepe de Chine or China silk, of pale green, lilac, blue, or ecru crepon, or of the flowered India silks and challies. Wash dresses to be worn all summer are of pink, buff, or white corded dimity, French nainsook, zephyr ginghams in fine stripes, or cotton Bedford cords, the last in blue or lilac cords alternating with white, or ecru with tan or darker brown. Beige, gray, tan-color, and pale violet are as fashionable colors for children's dresses as for those worn by their mothers.

Ecru point de Genes lace and open-patterned embroidery are the trimmings most used for girls' best dresses. Ribbons of velvet and moire are employed in quantities on these gowns, whether they be of silk, wool, or fine cotton fabrics. The gay Russian embroideries are also used.

The latest models for spring frocks of girls 4 to 10 years old differ from those of last season in having shorter skirts that cover the knees well, but leave the limbs free below. Fashionable mothers who follow extreme styles have adopted for their girls the so-called French dress, with abnormally long waist, and short skirt barely reaching to the knees; but, as a matter of fact, girls in Paris now wear the Empire gown, with short waist up under the arms, and long skirt almost touching the floor, and also the English Greenaway gowns that have long been familiar here. In selecting styles, however, everything depends on the child, a plain short frock suiting one best, and an elaborate picturesque gown being more becoming to another. Mothers of conservative taste are slow to accept the extremely short skirts, preferring those of medium length extending half way below the knee and the top of the high shoes. All skirts for small girls are straight and full, measuring from two yards and a half to three yards or a trifle more in width. A hem of four to six inches is at the foot. The top has usually two rows of gathers, with much of the fullness thrown toward the back, and is sewed to the waist with a welting cord. Rows of insertion and of velvet ribbon are the trimmings preferred; tucks and ruffles are also used.

Reefer Jackets for Girls.

Reefer jackets for girls of four to ten years are of ecru, tan, or blue diagonal wool, with a braided shield below the front of the open sailor collar. Another fancy is for red serge reefers with blue collars and cuffs, braided with white, and fastened with gilt buttons, while blue reefers have red collars and cuffs. Still other blue reefers have a front facing of blue-striped wool, and also stripes on the collar. Long cloaks for girls of twelve years or less are of camel-hair with long tufts, made with a round waist, double-breasted, a full gathered skirt, and a deep military

It Would Be Very Warm.

Prof. Mayer has calculated that, if the motion of the earth were suddenly arrested, the temperature produced would be sufficient to melt and ever volatilize it; while, if it fell into the sun, as much heat would be produced as results from the combustion of 5,000 spheres of carbon the size of our globe.
